

Congratulate! Professor Tsai Keh-Chyuan was elected as a International member of National Academy of

Written by Administrator

Tuesday, 15 February 2022 20:28 -

Tsai Keh-Chyuan, distinguished professor of Department of Civil Engineering, National Taiwan University

Congratulate! Professor Tsai Keh-Chyuan was elected as a International member of National Academy of

Written by Administrator

Tuesday, 15 February 2022 20:28 -

According to the announcement by National Academy of Engineering (NAE) on February 9 in the United States, Professor Tsai Keh-Chyuan, member of the TCIAE, was elected as an International Member of the National Academy of Engineering in 2022.

Professor Tsai Keh-Chyuan is a Distinguished Professor of the Department of Civil Engineering of National Taiwan University, a former director of the National Center for Research on Earthquake Engineering, and an International member of International Academy of Engineering (IAE) in 2020.

The reason for selection announced by NAE is " For international leadership and contributions to earthquake engineering research and design of steel structures."

Resource:

<https://www.nae.edu/19579/31222/20095/266386/270224/National-Academy-of-Engineering-Elects-111-Members-and-22-International-Members>

Congratulate! Professor Tsai Keh-Chyuan was elected as a International member of National Academy of

Written by Administrator

Tuesday, 15 February 2022 20:28 -
